

Candidate's Qualifications and Potential:

Aditi has the necessary qualifications to perform her duties as the Assistant Architect. In her tenure at Parsons Brinckerhoff Pte Ltd, Singapore (PB); she has consistently discharged her duties as an Assistant Architect and she has been an integral part of the architect team in the company.

She has the potential to further her studies in her chosen field. Dilligent and meticulous, she is very resourceful in particular in areas of research and documentation. She is a self-starter and has shown tremendous maturity and motivation.

During her tenure at PB, she was involved in the design and design development of various projects, including high-rise residential developments as well as commercial developments.

As an Assistant Architect, she was in charge of the following aspects:

- Project Brief Research:
  - She was involved in research work prior to the commencement of concept design for a high-rise residential project. Her area of research includes precedent studies for high-rise residential and high-rise residential facade treatment.
- Conceptual Design:
  - She was involved in the conceptual design for the high-rise residential project and she has developed various design options.

She has the passion and interest in architecture and I believe that this will place her in good stead for her future endeavors.
